Levente Szélyes
Owner & CEO

About

Founder and owner of Codespring, software development and outsourcing company, Mr. Szélyes, is one of the dynamic Romanian entrepreneurs in IT&C industry.

He started his career as a software engineer, working for companies in the energy, industrial automation and professional video solutions industries. He also worked as a researcher at the Technical University of Munich, within the Information Technology and Mechanical Engineering Department.

In 1998 he founded his first software development company. Soon, he engaged in a BOT (Build, Operate, Transfer) contract with the largest IT&C company in Germany.

Later on, Mr. Szélyes initiated a new business venture, Codespring. The company reached EUR 1 million turnover in the first years of activity, and it is constantly growing. Today, the company is proud to have strategic partners from the USA and Europe.

Current Focus

In the following years as a CEO of an agile Transylvanian company, Mr. Szélyes aims to further develop strategic partnerships with specialized software development companies and teams.

One of his drives is to turn Codespring into a challenging software development company in the CEE.

This year all efforts will be directed towards achieving excellence by providing high service level.
